

Generic Promotional Tweets

To be posted between 22nd – 26th January

Copy and paste these tweets into your Twitter account:

#familymediationweek aims to let people know about the benefits of family mediation and help separating couples make decisions together.

22-26 January is #Familymediationweek - use the tag to share your news and events, and raise awareness.

We support #familymediationweek! <http://www.familymediationweek.org.uk>

Follow @FamilyMedWeek for tweets throughout the #familymediationweek!

Other ways to help on Twitter

- Change your Twitter profile image to support FMW - you can copy this from the FMW profile image
- Retweet posts you feel you agree with — this will help reach a wider audience
- Tag the FMW page in the tweets about the event - simply use @FamilyMedWeek at the end of your tweet
- Use the #familymediationweek within your tweets

Generic Promotional Facebook copy

To be posted between 22nd – 26th January

Copy and paste these messages into your Facebook:

Organised by FMA, the aim of Family Mediation Week is to let more people know about the benefits of family mediation - we want to encourage separating couples to consider family mediation as a way to help them make decisions together - visit http:// thefma.co.uk for more information.

This year's Family Mediation Week is built around the theme 'I wish my parents had known about family mediation'.

22-26 January is #Familymediationweek - use the hashtag to get involved in conversation around family mediation, share your articles and news.

To find out what's happening around you during #Familymediationweek,

This year's Family Mediation Week is built around the theme 'Certainty after Chaos' - organised by The FMA, the aim of Family Mediation Week is to let more people know about the benefits of family mediation. We want separating couples to think of Family Mediation as the first step.

Other ways to help on Facebook

- Change your Facebook page image to support FMW - you can copy this from the FMW page profile image
- ‘Share’ posts — this will help reach a wider audience
- Tag the FMW page in the posts about the event - if you simply use @ at the beginning of your post then start writing “Family Mediation Week”, Facebook will give you an option to tag
- Use the #familymediationweek within your posts
- Comment on posts you feel you have an opinion about - this will also help widen the reach of the page and the event